

Word Ships

Michael E. Stone

Sometimes when I am half asleep,
Phrases float across my mind,
Word ships 'cross a misty sky.

I almost hear those words' music,
A melody beyond the range
Of the mind's ear.

I strive and strain to seize upon words so scarcely seen, the keys to vision's guarded gates.

May 29, 2004

"Word Ships," Other Voices International vol. 21, 2006 (web publication).